THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SUNDAY, JULY 17, 1870. | VOLUME III---NUMBER 23

Evening Edition.

Atlanta, Georgia, July 16, 1870.

☞ For interesting matter, see fourth page.

To Our Subscribers Along the Line of the State Road.

We have made arrangements to send either edition of our paper to subscribers. If any, who are now getting the evening edition, wish to change to the morning, they will please notify us.

Cheapest Paper in the State.

On and after this date, the price of THE WEEKLY CONSTITUTION will be $2 per year, instead of $3 as heretofore. Send in your subscriptions at once, if you wish the best paper in the State for the money. The moderate sum of $2 will secure the WEEKLY CONSTITUTION for one year, which is worth more than the money!

Our exchanges, who have copied our prospectus, will confer a favor upon us by making the above alteration.

☞ John Morrissey has a palatial gambling house at Saratoga.

There is also in a locality convenient to the hotel, a very retired building in which a privileged few of the most aristocratic female visitors engage in games of hazard, in which large sums are often staked.

Odd Fellowship to be Introduced into Germany.

The Most Worthy Grand Sire of the Grand Lodge of the United States, I. O. O. F., Mr. E. D. Farnsworth, of Nashville, Tennessee, accompanied by Mr. F. B Austin, of California, sailed on the 7th instant, in the Bremen steamship, Maine, to introduce Odd Fellowship into Germany and other countries across the water.

☞ The ship canal across the Isthmus of Darien seems at present to be deemed impracticable. The project of connecting the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans by a ship canal can not be abandoned. Commercial enterprise, and the progressive spirit of the age, will not permit it. Such a canal, in the language of a quaint old writer, will be a "door of the seas and a key to the Universe."

It is also in contemplation to build a ship canal across the Isthmus of Corinth. With the Darien, the Corinth and the Suez Canals, a complete voyage around the world would be a small undertaking compared with the exploits of voyagers of past generations.

☞ The strategy of war has been much modified and changed by railroad locomotion. The student of the art of war will find much to interest him in this regard in strategy of the late civil war in America. In the war recently inaugurated in Europe, the railroads, and the preservation of them in the rear of the great armies on each side, will require large numbers of men as guards. The retention, or loss, by either belligerent will have much to do with prolonging or terminating the conflict. The strategy of the Third Napoleon cannot be justly tested by a comparison with that of his uncle, without considering the railroad element in modern war-fare. These truths should not be lost sight of in studying the events of the war.

☞ It is a noticeable fact that, in the canvassing of the question of a new location for Mercer University, the people and the press of Atlanta have not indulged in expressions disparaging to other towns and cities that have entered into the contest. It is also a fact that many unjust, unkind, and uncalled-for flings have been made by the press of some of the other places contending for the prize.

This is not as it should be. The people of Atlanta seek the location of the institution upon what they believe to be meritorious grounds, viz: The centrality and salubrity of the place, a prospective large local patronage, the rapid growth, as well as the intelligence and average morality of its inhabitants. They can afford to make the canvass on these grounds, and can see no wisdom in the policy of disparaging their rivals. Perhaps those who have so injudiciously indulged in ungenerous and invidious remarks about our city, would do well to note that Atlanta owes its prosperity mainly to the self-reliance of its people, who desire no success that can only be earned at the cost of an ungenerous disparagement of others.

Georgia News.

Cotton has commenced opening in the lower part of Dougherty county.

The corn crop in Southwest Georgia is abundant.

The merchants of Albany are holding public meetings in favor of reduced rents.

Judge Parrott will preside at Floyd Superior Court.

Thomas W. Young, of Lowndes county, who graduated last year at Franklin College, died on the 12th of typhoid fever.

Two 16th amendments, at Valdosta, got jealous, and one of them, named Martha, shot one named Mary in the abdomen.

Peter Ford, who shot a colored man named Gordon, in Savannah, has been committed to answer to the charge of murder.

James McLaughlin, a lad of nine years, was drowned in the canal at Savannah on the 14th instant.

Talbot county will show a heavy falling off in the black population, and a corresponding increase of the whites.

Dekle's variety works, in Thomasville, were destroyed by fire last week. Loss $20,000.

A 16th amendment, in Columbus, owns twelve shares of building and loan association stock.

Carrollton and Bowdon, in Carroll county, are soon to have a railroad connecting them with the railroad world.

Dr. J. W. Oslin, at West Point, shot, on the 12th, a 15th amendment in self-defense.

Troup Superior Court will be adjourned, owing to continued illness in Judge Bigby's family.

Valentine Zimmer, of LaGrange, has a curious vegetable, called the "asparagus bean," with a pod two feet long.

Gilbert M. Anderson has been found guilty, at Columbus, of murder. He was charged with killing his wife in 1868, and plead insanity.

The Columbus Factory was struck by lightning the other day, and the cotton in the lint-room fired. Fortunately the fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

Mr. Thomas Kendrick, threshing east of Pleasant Hill, in Talbot county, had measured up 4,000 bushels up to the 10th. He thinks there are 2,000 more ahead. The average work is 1,000 bushels per week. Mr. Kendrick reports the wheat crop good, but the average much less than last year.

Simeon M. Myers, who was shot by young J. Joseph Clayton, in Augusta, has died. A coroner's inquest was held over his remains, and the jury rendered a verdict that the shooting and killing was manslaughter. Two women are at the bottom of the difficulty.

In the Pleasant Hill district of Talbot county, not a single mortgage has been given on the growing crops for corn or bacon. The people are out of debt and getting rich, not by cotton, but by producing corn, wheat and meat. Cotton is their surplus crop.

Thomas M. Alexander, son of Dr. J. M. Alexander, of Savannah, was assassinated on last Tuesday night, near Quitman. A charge of buckshot entered Alexander's back, tore through his body, and passed out in front, near the left breast. The heart must have been terribly mangled by the leaden missiles. The watch, pocket-book, and other personal effects of the deceased were untouched and as he had placed them in his pocket before leaving home.

The funeral obsequies of Rev. Father O'Neill, at Savannah, were the most imposing ever seen in that city. One hundred vehicles, and over 1,000 persons in the procession on foot, while South Broad street contained upwards of 5,000 persons, a majority of whom accompanied the cortege. The Thunderbolt road, as far as the eye could reach, presented one moving mass of beings, which, taken in connection with the numberless vehicles, presented a sight but seldom seen.

City and Suburban Affairs.

LIBERAL PROPOSITION.—The following liberal offer made, by Colonel Richard Peters to the Trustees of Mercer University, commends itself at once to every one having at heart the moral and material prosperity of Atlanta. The action of the City Council, last night, in appropriating $50,000 to Mercer University, is endorsed by the tax-payers of Atlanta, as it was made at the request of over three hundred petitioners and a large meeting of tax-payers. We appeal to the men of wealth, of all denominations, to imitate the example of our public-spirited citizen, Colonel Peters:

To the Trustees of the Mercer University—GENTLEMEN: Should your committee decide on the removal of the Institute to this city, and should you approve of locating the buildings on any portion of land lots No. 49 or No. 80, unsold, I will donate two blocks, containing eight acres, within the city limits, on Peachtree or Ivy streets, or on North Avenue, near the Scofield Rolling Mill.

I will also donate to the University, based on the above conditions, five thousand dollars in cash, and will guarantee the completion of the City Street Railway to the city limits, near the site selected.

RICHARD PETERS.

WHAT'S UP?—We are informed that the pay train, on the Western and Atlantic Railroad, left on Tuesday morning to go up the road, and returned to the city that night. As it has been customary for the train to be absent for two or three days on such occasions, the inquiry is, what is the matter? how long did the funds last? what ails Hannah?

Supreme Court of Georgia.

JUNE TERM, 1870.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.]

Order of Circuits with the number of cases from each:

|---|---|
| Middle Circuit | 9 |
| Ocmulgee Circuit | 3 |
| Eastern Circuit | 8 |
| Brunswick Circuit | 5 |

MORNING SESSION.

ATLANTA, SATURDAY, July 16, 1870.

Before beginning regularly with the Ocmulgee Circuit, the Court passed an order to perfect certificate of the clerk below in No. 8, on that circuit.

The Court then took up the continued case of Dawson B. Laur, guardian, et al, vs. Abner M. Porter and wife. Equity from Morgan.

B. H. Thrasher and J. A. Billups, for plaintiffs in error.

A. Reese, for defendant.

At the conlusion and pending a motion to dismiss it, because the evidence was not in the bill of exceptions, Court adjourned till 3 o'clock, P. M.

☞ Some astounding facts have come to light since the census men have commenced their rounds. It has been discovered that one in three have grown five years younger since the taking of the last census, and that the highest age of unmarried ladies is twenty-six, the average being from eighteen to twenty-one.

☞ Two Georgians have turned up claimants to eighty-two millions of dollars of property located in this city. This valuable estate begins at the corner of Broadway and Canal street, and the claimants are going to law for it. They claim that it was leased for only one hundred years, and that the lease expires shortly. Of course they are the heirs of the original owners. Of course they will get it—probably—

"When, wrapped in fire the realms ether glow,
And heaven's last thunder shakes the earth below."

We doubt, though, if they will get it before that interesting event transpires.—Evening Telegram.

Bowdon College Commencement.

Our local had the pleasure of attending the closing exercises of Bowdon College last week. He arrived too late to hear the commencement sermon preached by Dr. Boring, of Atlanta, and the exercises of Monday. On Tuesday morning, at 11 o'clock, the societies of the college, Henry Clay and Calhoun, escorted their orator, P. F. Smith, of Newnan, into the hall. Mr. Smith entertained his large audience with a most able and eloquent address. With a fine command of ideas and language, a clear and logical method, a fine fund of history, with a rich endowment of fancy, he is a man to impress an audience with his views, and will no doubt impress his genius on the future.

Tuesday evening, the declaimers spoke for prizes. They evinced much skill in the rendering of their respective pieces. The committee awarded Mr. F. V. Evans, of Albany, Georgia, the first, and Mr. J. H. Daniel, of Heard county, Georgia, the second prize. These prizes are very handsome medals—the first of gold, the second of silver.

On Wednesday morning, a part of the senior class addressed the audience with original orations. These were peculiar for elegant diction, classic references, and clearness of thought and expression. Colonel Avery, of Atlanta, Georgia, was to have delivered the commencement oration, but was absent, owing to the irruption of an old wound, one received in the late war. All were disappointed at his absence.

After the award of the prizes in oratory by the writer, the President made the usual public announcement of the grades of the students, and the exercises were closed to be resumed on the 18th of August next.

The plan of instruction pursued here is the one gradually commending itself to most colleges of a high standard. It is called the University or Eclectic system. The applicant may select what studies best suit the purpose of his life, and apply his whole attention thereto. To the present condition of the country this plan is peculiarly adapted. It is incomparably superior to the old curriculum, as here, graduation does not at all depend on the time expended, but only upon the proficiency attained.

This system, under the able management of President John M. Richardson and Professor Henderson, has secured a large patronage. We predict for it a career of success. If the railroad projected from Newnan passes through Bowdon, the increased facilities will add wonderfully to the institution. Indeed, with all the disadvantage of distance from a railroad, the college this year sends out thirteen young men with diplomas. With her beautiful location, her healthful atmosphere, clear, cold water, and fine society, this institution bids fair to equal and excel many of her competitors.—La Grange Reporter.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

FOREIGN.

VIENNA, July 16.—The governments of Austria, England, Italy and Russia are known to have presented, at Paris, urgent remonstrance against war.

BERLIN, July 16.—Bundescoth, of the North German Confederation, meet here to-day.

The Prussian Diet is already in session. The chiefs of all parties assure the King of their unqualified approval of his dignified and energetic action.

The King has arrived. His progress from Ems was one continued ovation. Over 100,000 persons waited on him at the station. The King hoped they would be as brave elsewhere.

LONDON, July 16.—Count Bismarck has issued a circular, which has been telegraphed in all directions, notifying German vessels to hasten to the ports of shelter. This notification, of course, applies to all ocean steamers belonging to all German ports.

The Meuse Vosges of the Upper Rhine and Lower Rhine are real objects of war on the part of Prussia, and in that she has the sympathies of mankind.

The Times hints that an English intervention is probable in the case of Prussia losing strength. The neutrality of England will be difficult and perhaps impossible and dishonorable should Holland and Belgium become involved in war.

The Prussian fleet of Prince Adalbert, which has latterly been in these waters, sailed to-day for Keil.

PARIS, July 16.—The government will be sustained in war supplies by the Corps Legislatif by a vote of 266 to 10. The Senate approved the action of the government without division.

The Emperor is expected to head the army in person, and by a series of rapid movements arrive at the Rhine before Prussia has completed her defense.

The military pupils of the second year have been ordered to join the army with the rank of sub-lieutenats.

The Algerian army is coming home. Immense demonstration on the streets and boulevards last night.

LIVERPOOL, July 16.—There is much excitement in the markets, and breadstuffs are rapidly advancing.

The London Times intimates the recovery of Alsace and Lorraine, containing the modern provinces of Mozella.

Religious.

The number of gods of China have now reached 30,000.

Harvard University graduated but one Bachelor of Divinity this year.

The Chinese have only one Sunday in the year, and that is New Year's Day.

Missouri Presbyterians are not allowed to indulge in "promiscuous dancing."

The Mussulmans of Damascus are becoming converted to Christianity in large numbers.

Provision has been made for the religious instruction of the Chinese at North Adams, Massachusetts.

The Bishop of Manchester has decided that in the English Church the black preaching gown is illegal.

Missionaries write that the constant decrease of the Sandwich Islanders has left nearly all the large churches built years ago much too large for their present congregations.

There is a sect in North Carolina known as the "Free Salvation Baptist Association," having five churches and 268 members. They hold to feet-washing, shouting, and open communion.

Rev. C. G. Finney says that Henry Ward Beecher's apparent willingness to sympathize with those who hold unsound doctrinal views, is owing to an over strict religious home training in his youth.

A Boston journal says: Of the three hundred clergymen settled in Boston and its vicinity, only three Rev. Dismal Horrors have been heard from, uttering their ghoulish howls over the grave of the author of "Little Nell."

The French Methodist Conference has the question of lay delegation under consideration; and the official members of the Wesleyan Society in Belfast, Ireland, have sent to Conference a petition for the introduction of lay delegates.

The London City Mission has in its employ 375 missionaries, who made over two million visits last year, restored 905 drunkards, restored 676 fallen women to their homes or put them in asylums, and induced 184 shopkeepers to give up Sunday trading.

The Bishop of New York will soon summon, at the request of the Bishops of Western New York, Long Island, Albany and Central New York, the primary meetings of the Federate Council of the State of New York. The council is to meet in St. John's Chapel, New York, on Wednesday, October 26.

The Methodist states that the preparations for the Conference of the Evangelical Alliance, to be held in this city September next, are rapidly maturing. Carefully prepared papers will be read by many of the best known evangelical divines and laymen of England, France, Germany and the United States.

The Israelitish Reform Synod will meet this year at Munich, on the 26th inst. The following are admitted members of the Synod: 1. Delegates of congregations, the number optional. 2. Every officiating rabbi. 3. Every Jewish theological scholar. 4. Public teachers who have been in office for ten years.

The Northern Methodists, at their Chicago Conference, recommended all the churches to preach in favor of temperance on the fourth Sabbath of June of each year; while the Southern Methodist General Conference, which met at Memphis, regarded the temperance question as an "outside issue," that didn't concern them.

Rev. C. H. Malcom, of Rhode Island, has sent out a circular inviting Baptists to sign its declaration of faith in the general Baptist doctrines, but allowing "entire freedom to each church to fix its own terms of communion." He says that some thirty ministers, nearly all Baptists, including one or two college presidents and four doctors of divinity, have signed this paper.

At the coming Protestant Council in New York Professor Tholuck, of Halle, the Rev. Eugene Bersier, of France, Professor Revel, of Florence, Bishop Martensen, of Copenhagen, and Dean Kind, of Grisons, will read papers on the religious condition of the countries they respectively represent. Dr. James McCosh will discuss materialism and positivism. The council will open September 22, and close October 2.

An old biblical miracle is reported to have taken place lately at Eleusa, in the Tyrol:

A boy possessed by a demon was brought into church, and the requisite adjurations were commenced. The evil spirit immediately cried out: "I will not go!" and struggled for two hours. At last a command to leave his prey in the name of the Blessed Virgin was successful, and he cried out in despair: "I am overcome; I will go." He then requested to be allowed to enter swine or geese, but these offers being refused, with the harsh injunction to repair to the lowest depths of hell, he became irritated, and behaved in an outrageous manner for a quarter of an hour, tearing and rending the hapless child, and extricating itself from its body with the greatest reluctance.

Men and Women.

Chicago paupers are buried by contract, at $2 50 a pauper.

Emile Olivier has received the Spanish Order of the Golden Fleece.

A precocious Illinois boy has eloped with his uncle's second wife.

In the balloon ascension at Chicago on the fourth, a couple were married while nearly 200 feet from the ground.

The Cincinnati Methodist Conference has passed resolutions against Mrs. Van Cott's preaching, but she still holds to her own resolution to preach.

Among the graduates at Princeton College was Mr. Frank Hawthorne Pierce, a nephew of ex-President Pierce, and a namesake of Nathaniel Hawthorne.

The editor of the Mount Pleasant Journal, Iowa, who was chosen Secretary of the Woman's Rights Convention at that place the other day, has become a raving lunatic.

The Boston Post says: "A London surgeon has grafted a piece of negro skin on the shoulder of a white boy, and is watching to see whether it will grow there." The Hartford Times adds: "Congress has been engaged in a similar experiment for some time, but it don't seem to work."

B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

WHY is it that so many children die under the age of five years? That a large proportion of children die under that age, has long been a subject of remark, and without a satisfactory cause ascertained, it is certain.

Also, it is known that worms exist in the human system from its earliest infancy; therefore parents, especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, can not be too observing of the first symptoms of worms; for so surely as they exist, can they be safely and certainly removed from the most Delicate Infant, by the timely use of

B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge.

It is perfectly harmless, contains no Mercury, being a purely Vegetable Composition, and may be administered with the utmost safety to children of all ages.

Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily.

CAUTION.

Should occasion require you to purchase B. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, be particularly careful to see that the initials are B. A. This is the article that has been so

LIVER MEDICINE

A SAFE and certain cure for all kinds of Liver Complaints, and all diseases and indispositions that originate from a diseased state or inactivity of the Liver, such as

Chronic and Acute Inflammations of the Liver,
Dyspepsia, Sick Headache,
Sourness of the Stomach,
Loss of Appetite,
Lowliness of Spirits, Colic,
Costiveness, Fever, Ague,
Bilious Fever, Dropsy and Jaundice.

These Medicines are purely Vegetable, and perfectly harmless; but their efficacy is too permanently established in all the Southern and Western States to require any further recommendation—the wise will not fail to give them a fair trial—this is all that is asked.

LAGRANGE, GA., DEC. 3, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER, West Point, Ga. Gentlemen: Having witnessed almost daily, for the last fifteen years, the great efficacy of the preparation you are now putting up, known as "Abbett's Medicine," it affords me pleasure to state that I know of no combinations or preparation equal to it in the treatment of Liver Diseases of whatever character, and would cordially recommend it to all who are suffering from derangement of the Liver, and especially the Dyspeptic.

I am, very respectfully,
T. S. BRADFIELD, Druggist.

WEST POINT, GA., OCT. 15, 1869.

MESSRS. CRAWFORD & WALKER: Gentlemen—I can honestly and confidently recommend L. B. Abbett's Liver or Dyspeptic Medicine, as prepared by you, to the favorable notice of the suffering public. Having used this Medicine myself in my family for twenty years, I can highly recommend it for removing pain or flatulency from the stomach, caused by indigestion. It also has a happy effect in removing constipation of the bowels. I believe it to be the best universal remedy the world has yet discovered for the above named diseases. With my best wishes to you in introducing this valuable Medicine to the public, I remain, Yours, truly, A. K. KENDRICK.

MESSRS. JACOB LIPPMAN & BRO., Savannah, Ga.:

GENTS: I have before me your esteemed letter of the 14th instant, containing various documents relative to your "German Bitters." After a careful examination, I must confess that your Bitters is really what you represent it to be, an old German recipe of Dr. Mitcherlich, of Berlin, Prussia. It will, no doubt, be excellent for Dyspepsia, general debility and nervous diseases, and it is a good preventive of Chills and Fevers. I find it to be the most delightful and pleasant stomachic.

UNIVERSAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY — A GOOD MAN Leaveth an INHERITANCE

UNIVERSAL LIFE INS. CO.

—NEW YORK—

The Original Joint-Stock Life Ins. Co. of the United States.

The business of this Company is EXCLUSIVELY confined to the Insurance of first class healthy lives.

THE DISTINCTIVE FEATURE of the Stock system of Life Insurance, as opposed to the Mutual, is a low rate of premium for a stated sum insured, which is IMMEDIATE, SECURED and CERTAIN; in lieu of a high rate of premium with a promised dividend, which is DISTANT, CONTINGENT and UNCERTAIN; this so-called dividend being merely a return of a portion of the excessive and unnecessary premium charged in the first instance.

ILLUSTRATION.

Supposed that an individual aged thirty desires to devote $200 a year for the purpose of effecting an insurance on his life; this amount will immediately secure him in the UNIVERSAL, the sum of $11,757, payable on his decease. This sum, paid to a company charging the ordinary mutual rates, would secure him the sum of $8,404—difference, immediately secured, in favor of the UNIVERSAL $3,377.

To illustrate the importance to the policy-holder of low premiums in more general terms, it may be stated that by a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium, the same amount of money will secure a policy thirty-three and one third per cent. greater, and likewise that a reduction of twenty-five per cent. in the rate of premium is precisely equivalent to an annual cash dividend of thirty-three and one-third per cent. payable in advance, or to a dividend of forty-five per cent. payable at the end of five years.

By the Stock plan the full cash effect of the premium is immediately secured to the insured, the Company taking all the risk. By the Mutual plan the full value in insurance of the premium paid, is not secured to the policy-holder, who takes a portion of the risk himself.

THE PREMIUMS

charged by the Universal are as low as the actual experience of insured life in this country will justify, and on the ordinary Life and Ten-Year Non-forfeiture policies are nearly one-third lower than those charged by the majority of Mutual Companies.

Special attention is asked to our "Return Premium Plan," by which the amount of the policy is secured simply by the temporary deposit of the annual premiums, which are returned in full, together with the amount assured, to the holder of the policy when it shall become a claim upon the Company. Also to the by which a reduction of one-third is made in the premium after the first annual payment, being, in fact, equivalent to a dividend of 33⅓ per cent. A clause is inserted in the policies issued by the "Universal," in which these results are distinctly specified and guaranteed.

"REDUCTION OF PREMIUM PLAN,"

To Correspondents.

We invite correspondence from all parts of the State about the crops, and local incidents, but we would urge upon our friends to give us the facts in a concise manner, and to WRITE ON ONLY ONE SIDE OF THE SHEET. Please observe this.

Not Doubtful.

By reference to the telegraphic dispatches, it will be seen that the question of an election of Assemblymen the coming fall is beyond peradventure. The present Legislature is recognized as a legal body; consequently, their term of office expires the present year.

An Election This Fall.

We hear that his Excellency, Governor Bullock, favors the holding of an election this fall for members of Congress and members of the General Assembly.

Section eleven, of article second, of the constitution, provides that "the election of Governor, members of Congress and of the General Assembly, after the year 1868, shall commence on Tuesday after the first Monday in November."

This will bring the election on the 8th day of November, 1870.

Paragraph 2, of article 3, of the constitution, provides that the members of the Senate "elected at the first election from the 22 Senatorial Districts, numbered in the constitution with odd numbers, shall only hold their office for two years." Under this provision of the constitution, clear and unmistakable, the following Senators' terms will expire in November:

1st—A. A. Bradley, Republican.
3d—H. Henderson, do
5th—N. Corbitt, do
7th—M. C. Smith, do
9th—R. T. Nisbett, Democrat.
11th—C. B. Wooten do
13th—W. B. Jones, Repuplican.
15th—W. T. McArthur, Democrat.
17th—McW. Hungerford, Republican.
21st—William Griffin, do
23d—W. A. Mathews, do
25th—E. I. Higbee, do
27th—John Harris, do
29th—Josiah Sherman, do
31st—W. F. Bowers, do
33d—A. M. Stringer, do
35th—J. L. Dunning, do
37th—W. W. Merrell, do
39th—A. W. Holcombe, Democrat.
41st—J. Dickey, Republican.
43d—Joel C. Fain, Democrat.
Republicans, 16; Democrats, 5.

Vacancies in the 19th and 44th districts to be filled.

The constitution provides that "members of the House of Representatives shall be elected for two years. The election for members of the General Assembly shall begin on Tuesday after the first Monday in November every second year, except at the first election."

There are 23 Senators and 175 Representatives to elect in November.

There will also be an election for two sets of Congressmen—for the short term, from March to December, and the long term.

The Georgia Bill.

The following is the text of the Georgia bill, as it passed both Houses of Congress, and was approved by the President:

Section 1. Be it enacted, etc., That the State of Georgia having complied with the Reconstruction acts, and fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States, having been ratified in good faith by the legal Legislature of said State, it is hereby declared that the State of Georgia is entitled to representation in the Congress of the United States; and nothing in this or any other act of Congress shall be construed to affect the term to which any officer has been appointed, or any member of the General Assembly elected as prescribed by the Constitution of the State of Georgia.

Sec. 2. Be it further enated, etc., That so much of the Act entitled "an act making appropriations for the support of the army, for the year ending June 30th, 1868, and for other purposes," approved March 2d, 1867, as prohibits the organization, arming or calling into service of the militia forces in the States of Georgia, Mississippi, Texas, and the same is hereby repealed.

In face of the plain language of this act, there can be no honest difference of opinion on the question of the right of the people of Georgia to hold an election for Assemblymen next fall. It admits of no serious argument.

Any of the Bullock faction who pretend now to claim that their wicked scheme of prolongation is not defeated, are simply imitating the "school boy whistling through a grave-yard to keep his courage up." They know and feel that they stand rebuked by the unanimous verdict of the Republicans in Congress, and by the rank and file of the party to which they claim to belong in Georgia as well as outside of the limits of the State. They know that they have forfeited the confidence of those with whom they were associated by close party affiliation prior to the development of their heinous plot to steal away the franchises of their neighbors.

Until the proposition of an amendment to the Georgia bill, known as the Bingham amendment, the plot to defraud the people of Georgia of their constitutional franchises was only known to Governor Bullock and a few conspirators who were in his secret. In Congress the majority of Republicans, who voted against the Bingham amendment, were incredulous of the existence of such a conspiracy as that amendment, by implication, exposed.

But for the full committal of himself and his co-conspirators to the "prolongation plot" (made by them and now a part of the recorded history of their career,) during their protracted opposition to the Bingham amendment, many less familiar than Georgians are with Governor Bullock's record, since Congressional reconstruction was commenced, would have been incredulous of the suggestion that he contemplated a fraud of such magnitude upon a people whose rights it is his sworn duty to protect.

He and his faction have spent thousands of dollars in lobbying Congress in paying for sensational telegrams and subsidizing the press to secure the success of their conspiracy. This they did, in face of the almost universal condemnation of the Republican press and Republican masses North, who were horrified and disgusted upon the development of their wicked plot, without a precedent in the history of the country.

The plot not only contemplated the cheating of the people of Georgia out of their constitution franchises, but its conception and the arguments brought forward in support of the scheme were insulting to the Congress that passed the "act entitled an act to provide the reconstruction of Georgia" in December last.

The editor of this paper, who has recently been on an extensive tour through the North, states to the writer that the plot produced, among Northern Republicans, an almost unanimous expression of condemnation and indignation. He made it a point to inform himself on this subject in conversation with members of the press and others with whom he came in contact. This expression of condemnation was not confined to moderate Republicans, but the most ultra Radicals were bitter in their denunciation of Governor Bullock and his faction.

Hon. John A Logan has said that a Republican that would seek to prolong his term of office, either as Governor or member of the Legislature, under the Georgia bill, as recently passed by the House, and before it took its final shape in the Senate, ought to be hung. The following telegram, which was in the Associated Press dispatches, published yesterday morning, is significant and confirmatory of the above statements:

H. P. Farrow, one of the Georgia United States Senators, has issued an address to the Georgia Legislature. He takes the position that the bill admitting Georgia leaves the Constitution untouched, and, therefore, the election must take place in November; that it would justly ruin the party to perpetuate themselves in power. He is diametrically opposed to Governor Bullock and Blodgett.

In view of the fact that the State is now fully in the Union, and that an election of Assemblymen by the people next fall is assured, if the members of the Assembly will be guided by "wisdom, justice and moderation," a bright future is before our noble old State.

We are satisfied that there are among the Republicans in the Legislature, men who have remaining in their bosoms an ardent love of the old Commonwealth, and who desire the good will of their neighbors. However much such men may have differed with their neighbors on the various steps of the reconstruction process, reconstruction is now an accomplished fact. The personal schemes of Governor Bullock and his faction having been exposed, and they brought under the ban of the Republican party, all honest and well-meaning men, who claim Georgia for their home, are equally interested in the promotion of her interests, in guarding the public treasury against plundering schemers, and in perpetuating peace within our borders. Not by the forcible use of the bayonet, but by honest and prudent legislation, the wide spread distrust, (that has been provoked by the persistent efforts of Governor Bullock and his faction, to promote their personal schemes, and to defraud the people of their rights,) may, in time, be removed, and the era of good will return, which so marked the character of Georgians in times past, even when engaged in most heated and exciting political contests.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

The Monarchs of New York—Her Great Journals and their Editors—Woodhull and Claflin—Beecher Operatic Religion.

NEW YORK, July 9, 1870.

I propose, in this letter, to say a few words about the

MONARCHS OF NEW YORK.

It has monarchs—men who not only control its vast interests, and whose broad, far-reaching power entitles them to be called kings, but whose influence runs out beyond its limits and affects other destinies. It has railroad potentates, commercial despots, newspaper royalties, social tyrants, and political and religious grandees. I do not err, perhaps, in designating its strongest rulers as its

PRESS MONARCHS.

The power of its journals is inconceivable, and extends over the continent, not to speak of their trans-oceanic influence. For enterprise and management, they lead the press of the world. They spend royal revenues for information; they pay immense subsidies to skilled brain, and they tap every theatre of human life for news. There is a class of professional journalists who practice newspapering as a science, and the finest talent for any branch of the business is in the market for hire. Conviction is nothing with these men. They are pure intellectual machines, skilled for the highest exercise of mind, and their strong thoughts, on any subject, are merchantable commodity. I called first on

THE SUN,

The boldest, newsiest, most concentrated and personal journal in the city. It is a daring little sheet, sensational very, paragraphic, earnest, indefatigable and with the distilled inquisitiveness of one million prying spinsters. Its leading editor, Mr. Charles A. Dana, is a pleasant, stoutish, middle-aged gentleman, with a sleek, well-groomed look about him. He has a perfect little boudoir of a sanctum. It is carpeted, furnished elegantly in black walnut and lined with pictures. Right opposite his table I noticed a fine copy of that famous Beatrice Cenci, looking over her shoulders, from out of that wealth of brown hair, with her great, sad, dreamy, beautiful eyes. I shall always think of Dana giving fits to Grant, under the inspiration of Beatrice's liquid orbs. Mr. Dana took a deep interest in the South, and had a thousand questions to ask about us.

He was surprised to think that any Southern man should prostitute his talents to run a newspaper in advocacy of Governor Bullock's personal schemes. He thought it was quite a different thing at the North, where politics is a struggle between men for office, for professional writers to advocate this or that side, and at the South, where the fundamental integrity of the State Governments are involved.

THE WORLD.

Manton Marble was away sick. This paper is elegantly conducted. It has the most cultured writing brain of the country on its staff. It is marked by polish and power. It has not the best reputation for stability of judgment, but its honesty is not doubted.

THE TRIBUNE.

Horace Greeley has been sick for weeks. The rural influence of this journal is immense. It controls the sentiment of the country people to an inconceivable extent. The leadership of Greeley over the rural masses is simply a marvel.

THE HERALD.

Bennett rarely ever goes to his office. A Mr. Putnam is managing editor, a solid-looking, dry, huskish, youngish machine. The whole Herald concern is run for money. Professing to no principles, wasting nothing on sentiment or sociability, following and never aiming to lead public opinion, and working out the great idea of simple unadulterated news-journalism with splendid and really unequaled success, this paper is the finest specimen of a mere news-paper that the world affords.

POMEROY'S DEMOCRAT.

Pomeroy goes to his newspaper office once a month, perhaps. His "red-hot" writing is simply imitated by his subordinates. His journal is a success, and run as any other machine by professional newspaper adepts. He gallivants over the country, lecturing and making a noise.

WOODHULL AND CLAFLIN, EDITRESSES AND BROKERS.

These noted petticoats have not only astonished the broker world as queens of finance, but are running a good weekly paper. Mrs. Woodhull is a self-announced candidate for the Presidency. She is a pretty, nervous, blondish-looking lady of thirty or thereabouts, with a beautiful profile, short hair, a remarkably soft voice and winning manner, and very sociable and sensible. She seems partial to Southerners, and wants the Southern editors to give her a call always. I mention this for the benefit of those gallant young editorial brethren of mine, the senior of the Macon Telegraph, and the editors of the Milledgeville Union, Savannah Republican and News, and Columbus Enquirer, and the venerable old gentleman of the Augusta Constitutionalist.

Mrs. Woodhull is in dead earnest about the Presidency; claims to have letters representing two hundred thousand votes, pledging her that much strength, and is sure of an election. She has any quantity of congressmen and leading politicians lobbying in her office. Her managing editor is a sharp Englishman named Humphreys, and her news editor a young Southerner, formerly of the New Orleans Picayune. Her partner I did not see.

BEECHER, THE RELIGIOUS KING.

I will leave the press and say a word of Beecher, who, though an editor, is better known as a preacher. Everything monarchical in New York is sleek and well-groomed. Beecher is vastly so—feels his keeping. He has irreproachable broadcloth, is handsome and looks tremendously self-satisfied. He runs his church like a small empire. He runs them body and soul. He don't run any special religion, but goes it independently. His creed is a sort of semi-pious eclecticism, neither moral, "fish, flesh or fowl," but a little of all, elastic and convenient, but with much in it good and practical. Beecher is a power—an undoubted mental power in this age. His intellectual grasp is remarkable. I attended his church. I found the congregation reading the morning papers as a preliminary to service, and I made a break for the Sunday World, in my pocket. I didn't feel much reverential thus engaged, but then I had example. The services began by a beautiful young girl stepping forward in the choir and giving us, for fifteen minutes, a brilliant, operatic-religious solo. I tell you, it was fine. This operatic science is dazzling. One needn't go to the theater. So, hurrah for Beecher's moral opera and religious oligarchy. Beecher preached magnificently. His sermon was equal to any stump-speech I ever heard. He kept his hearers entranced for two hours a hot day. He made them laugh and cry, and glow with wonder and delight. He tracked his manuscript pretty closely, but every now and then, would fly from it, and then came his best thing. His voice is dry and shrill, rather, and oratory unattractive, but holds you in spite of that.

In other churches I heard the pious opera. Professional choirs are engaged, and sing in the praise of God, and for the glorification of the church, for a large, jolly sum of greenbacks.

And as for the operatic ministers, they are a stunning set. With those jaunty side-whiskers that give a man an extra fashionable look, with the shiniest little boots, and the glossiest high beavers, suits of broadcloth that Beau Brummell would admire, their countenances looking over foppish little white neck-ties with a beaming expression of frisky theatrical complacency, you feel that Captain Jinks has changed his venue and altered his "Horse Marines" refrain to the pious marines for the special moral edification of your conscience.

Mercer University Commencement Exercises.

PENFIELD, July 13, 1870.

COMMENCEMENT DAY.

Editors Constitution: The student who has studied assiduously for four long years looked forward to this day with so much pleasure; but, ah! young man, when you receive your diploma your education is not complete—only begun. How much is expected of a graduate? Some men's minds are so small as to think that, because a young man has a diploma, he ought to know everything, and should he fail to answer any question propounded, they say that colleges are useless. But I promised to give your readers an account of the commencement day.

The senior orators—ten in number—gave us a fine exhibition—showed that they had been taught by scholars. Of course they had passed all timidity, and such a thing as "stage fright," and could deliver their speeches with composure. Below I give the names of the speakers and their respective subjects, and afterwards making such comments as may occur to me. They are as follows:

Andrew J. Beck............Latin Salutatory.
J. J. Sanders............The Graduate's Aim.
Zeno I. Fitzpatrick,
"Cura verborum sit, solicitudo rerum."
Jas. A. Nelson............Beauties of Science.
John T. Prior............The Thinker.
J. H. Carswell............Dread of Singularity.
Jas. K. Dykes..."Go It While You're Young."
Nathaniel L. Willet,
What Will He Do with It?
Marion S. Weaver..Intellectual Independence.
Wm. M. Sims............Valedictories.

Mr. Beck's Latin salutatory was well delivered, and we beg to be excused from making further remarks on it, without we had the manuscript and a copy of Andrews' Latin dictionary before us. Mr. B. is a man of fine mind, and is well worthy of the position he has already secured, viz: associate editor of the Rural Southerner.

Mr. Sanders spoke of the question so often asked: "What are you going to do when you graduate?" and of the different avocations; then recommended farming as a pleasant, honorable and independent avocation. He said the question was not, "What may I do?" but what he ought to do, and then with proper energy and perseverance he'll succeed.

Mr. Fitzpatrick's subject was, "About words be careful; about matter be solicitous." The speaker urged the great importance of a methodical arrangement in composing, illustrating with numerous examples.

Mr. Nelson, who made such a fine speech on Monday evening, as final orator of the Ciceronian society, was excused, at his own request.

Mr. Prior's subject was a grand one, affording a fine chance to expatiate on the man who has made "esto perpetua" his motto. He closed with a most beautiful tribute to our illustrious "war man," General Robert E. Lee.

Mr. Carswell, on the "Dread of Singularity," though a "singular" subject, made a good speech. He spoke of that class of persons who feared to do right or express an opinion, lest some one should call them "singular."

Mr. Dykes' speech on "Go it while you are young," was quite popular. He said most old people associated this "going" with horse racing, cock-fighting, gambling, etc. while it only meant having a little fun. As a plant requires an alternation of sunshine and rain in order to grow and be prosperous, so a youth requires fun at times, and it is absolutely necessary in order to become a man; and those parents who deny their children all fun and amusement, when they do get out, they "go it" sure enough.

Mr. Willet, son of the efficient Professor, spoke of the great question, "What will he do with it?" That is, when the young man leaves college, what will he do with his life after surveying the whole field of action, the professions, etc. We see that there is much to do, and though there are many difficulties in the way, the true man did not mind them. The speaker was quite a youth, yet he handled his subject with great skill.

Mr. Weaver spoke of the few men who possessed intellectual independence of the great number, who borrowed from the few, and cautioned young men to begin to think for themselves early, lest they depend on others too much; for, said the speaker, it is the "mind that makes the man, and independence that makes the mind." Lastly, Mr. Sims delivered the valedictories with so much pathos that it brought tears to the eyes of many in the audience. The vast audience was as still, almost, as death, when the speaker was bidding adieu to the honorable board of trustees, his much respected faculty, and his beloved classmates.

President Tucker then arose and announced to the audience that no honors would be given; that the honors had been equally divided among them all, or which was another way of saying, that those frivolous distinctions had been done away with by a vote of the class. The Doctor said he preferred appealing to their better motives, and thought that the system of giving honors was all wrong. He complimented the class in very strong language, and told them that he had never had occasion to say one word to them which gave him as much pain as the one now about to be uttered—Good-bye.

The graduating class, 19 in number, then marched upon the rostrum and received their diplomas with the degree of A. B., descending with heart full of sorrow at leaving their dear Alma Mater.

The Faculty and Board of Trustees conferred the degree of A.M. on Marshall J. Clark, of Atlanta, and the honorary degree of A.M. on J. R. Anthony, of Wilkes county, J. J. Davis, of Richmond county, and Rev. H. C. Hornady, of LaGrange, and the degree of D.D. on Rev. Samuel R. Freeman, President of Howard College, Alabama.

At 4½ o'clock, in the afternoon, the Hon. Charles T. Goode, of Americus, delivered the oration before the two literary societies. Your correspondent had heard much of the eloquence of the speaker, and prepared himself to hear something good, and be assured our expectations were fully realized.

The evening was intensely warm, and, as before said, the audience large, but through one hour the speaker held the vast audience spell-bound. He began by stating that he was not here to drag politics before his audience. He did not wish to refer to it only as it naturally forced itself in the discussion of the greater theme which was his subject—"The duty of our people in the present interesting crisis of Southern history." The speaker painted in glowing colors the fields of ancient valor; unfolded to the enchanted view the history of the past; then suddenly lowering his silver notes said: "I invite you, this evening, to wander with me to a more interesting field." Then, with bated breath, the vast throng followed the speaker through the bloody and desolated fields of the South. In the most touching manner we were shown the ruins of a great people; then our prostrate condition in 1865 was faithfully portrayed.

The speaker then, brightening up, asked the people of the South to look well to the future; telling them that their future was in their own hands and God's, and if the Southron would but act well this his first part in the first great act of the new drama, all would be well in our future. Our future would be brighter than our past. We staked all upon the issue of the war—we lost—our change was sudden—we were left without property, without a government, life, liberty, property, all were foot balls, kicked about by third lieutenants. All was gloom and lethargy. The scene changes, Hope is taking the place of despondency. How far we have advanced, no one can judge by comparing our present with our condition in 1865; no war had ever been so blighting—no desolation so great. But behold the change. Then follow a glowing discription of our present and our brightening prospects, but had to say, though much to cheer, there is much to regret. The cause of regret being the want of fidelity in many of our people. As a conquered people, we were told to learn from the history of the past. The speaker then showed how many people had lost their identity; it had been because the conquered had either yielded to despair or been assimilated to the habits and tastes of the conquerors. Illustrated by many examples, those who had yielded and became assimilated with the victors, and a few bright examples, and thanked the maker for them, who had neither given up in despair, or become identified with conquerors; and nothing but love of liberty and justice have saved these. Then followed an appeal to the people of the South to cherish in their hearts the love of Southern independence—love of Southern principles. He then showed the great dangers to which we are exposed: The love of place by leading men! In the hour of defeat we were not humiliated, but, oh! how low has been the humiliation of some! Do not let us fall into the fatal error of saying: "Whatever is, is right." Be true to ourselves, and we need fear no danger. We are told to forget the past, but he would say that the past is our noblest possession—the best we can have. Forget not the bones on the field, for they fell for our salvation. They must not, cannot, shall not be forgotten. The mothers will call their little ones around them and tell the story of the lawyer and statesman, who left the halls of legislation and rushed to the field of battle to meet the despoiler, and fell with his back to the soil and his feet to the foe, on Manassas' gory plain. Yes, the poet will sing of the man who drank deep at the fount of knowledge, who was a lover of learning, a statesman and Christian gentleman, who had never left his study till the tocsin of war was about to sound the death-knell to liberty, but then bid farewell to home and all its charms, to fall on the crags of Fredericksburg. Who can forget the story of the stern Christian elder, who left his quiet home to pour out his blood upon the never-to-be-forgotten field of Chancellorsville! Men may forget, but mother's will not, can, not. With each recurrence of Spring, woman will deck anew the soldier's grave. Then came a grand description of our glorious South—our climate and our soil, and finally, a grand and most poetical eulogy upon our fair and lovely women. We would do great injustice to the orator by attempting to give an idea of this beautiful eulogy. From sweet sixteen, blushing at her own loveliness, to the aged matron, all were most grandly eulogized.

The speaker then spoke of the labor question; that each year finds labor scarcer than its predecessor; he was opposed to so much Northern emigration and preferred to have stopped the stream of money passing from the South to the North, and that manufactories be built in the South. He appealed to the young men to remember the past, to be faithful to their race, and our sunny South would yet be one of the greatest countries in the world.

Quite a nice entertainment was given to the young people by Dr. Brantly and his estimable lady in the evening. The rosy cheeks and the sparkling eyes were out in force, many of whom seemed to have been born to win hearts.

Your correspondent can not close without expressing his gratitude to Dr. Brantly and lady for making his stay at Penfield so pleasant, and to Mr. W. E. Lawrence, the energetic livery stable man for his many acts of kindness. Your correspondent will ever look back upon the commencemept at Mercer as one of the brightest epochs in his life.

Yours, ATLANTA.

A Bill

To authorize the Mayor and Council of the City of Atlanta to provide for the introduction of water-works in said city, and for other purposes.

Whereas, By reason of the rapid increase of population in the city of Atlanta, it has become manifest that the present supply of water for extinguishing fires and for domestic and sanitary purposes is inadequate for the wants of said city;

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in session assembled, That, for the purposes aforesaid, there shall be created within the city of Atlanta a board of water commissioners, to consist of one member from each ward, to be elected and empowered to act as hereinafter described:

Section 1. Said water commissioners shall be elected by the voters having the right to vote for Mayor and members of Council, and shall be chosen at any regular annual election for city officers, and the persons so elected shall constitute the board of water commissioners, and shall choose from their number, annually, one as President of said water board, but the Mayor of Atlanta shall, ex-officio, always be one of said board, and the members so elected shall determine by lot, or otherwise, after a period of two years, who of their number shall vacate the board to the extent of two members, thereby creating a vacancy to be filled at the next regular election, who may hold their offices for the term of two years from the date of their installment.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That said board of commissioners, in proceeding to organize, shall take and subscribe the oath administered to the Mayor and members of Council, and shall provide books, in which shall be kept a record of the acts and doings of said board; a full report of which shall be made annually to the Mayor and Council of Atlanta; and the books of said board shall be subject to examination, at any time, by persons authorized to do so by the Mayor and Council.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That a majority of said board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business; and all contracts and engagements, acts and doings of the said board, within the scope of their duty or authority, shall be obligatory upon and be, in law, considered as done by the Mayor and Council of the city of Atlanta; and, the said Mayor and Council, and all the real estate within the city of Atlanta, shall be liable for the payment of the principal and interest that may become due on the bonds, or obligations, to be issued by virtue of this act.

Sec. 4 And be it enacted, That the said board shall, for and in the name of the Mayor and Council of the city of Atlanta, take and hold the lands and real estate, rights, franchises and property of every kind so purchased by the board aforesaid, and any other lands, real estate, or property necessary, in their opinion, for the construction of any canals, acqueducts, reservoirs, or other works for conveying or containing water, or for the erection of any buildings or machinery for laying any pipes or conduits for conveying the water into or through the said places, or to secure and maintain any portion of the works; and in general, to do any other act necessary or convenient for accomplishing the purposes contemplated by this act.

Sec. 5. And be it enacted, That in case of any disagreement between said board and the owners of any lands or water rights which may be required for the said purposes, or affected by any operation connected therewith, as to the amount of compensation to be paid to said owner, or in case any such owner shall be an infant or a married woman, or insane, or shall be absent from any State, the circuit court of the county of Fulton shall, on the application of either party, or in case any such owner shall be unknown, or cannot be found, then, upon notice of such application, to be given as said court may direct, nominate and appoint three disinterested persons to examine such property and estimate the value thereof, or damage sustained thereby, who shall, after reasonable notice to the parties, or notice to be advertised as said court may direct, of the time and place where they will be heard in relation to the matter, proceed without delay to hear the same and make their report thereon, and deliver the same to the court at the next session thereof, which shall be held in the said county.

Sec. 6. And be it enacted, That whenever such report shall be confirmed by the court aforesaid, the said board shall, within two months thereafter, pay to the said owner, or to such person or persons as the court may direct, the sum mentioned in said report, in full compensation, for the property so required, or for the damage sustained, as the case may be; and in all cases where the title or interest of any person or persons in lands required and taken up for the purpose of this act is doubtful or disputed, the value of, or damage to such lands awarded by the commissioners appointed by said Circuit Court, may be paid into said court, upon affidavit made of such facts, and such fragments shall have the same effect as if made to the owner thereof; and the said court may proceed in a summary way, upon petition of any person claiming to be the owner of said lands or any part thereof, and to what person or persons the said money shall be paid, and shall have power to distribute the same among the persons entitled thereto; and thereupon the Mayor and common Council, of the city of Atlanta, shall become seized in fee of such property so required, and shall be discharged from all claim by reason of such damage.

Sec. 7. And be it enacted, That the said board, in behalf of the Mayor and common Council, of the city of Atlanta, and all persons acting under their authority, shall have the right to use the ground or soil under any road, railroad, highway, street, lane, alley, court within this State, for the purpose of constructing, enlarging, improving any of the work contemplating by virtue of this act, upon condition that they shall not permanently injure any such road, railroad, highway, street, lane, alley or court to be restored to its original state, and all damages done thereto to be repaired.

Sec. 8. And be it enacted, That all contracts for materials, or for the construction of any part of said work, which shall involve the expenditure of five hundred dollars or more, shall be made in writing, and of each contract two copies shall be taken, which shall be numbered with the number of said contract, and endorsed with the name of the contractor, and a summary of the work to be done or materials furnished: one of said copies shall be deposited with the auditor of accounts of the city of Atlanta, and one shall be retained by said board. The said board shall have authority to require from any person or persons with whom they shall enter into a contract satisfactory security for the faithful performance of said contract, according to its terms, and no member of said board shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract relating to said work.

Sec. 9. And be it enacted, That all materials procured, or partially procured, under contract with said board, shall be exempt from execution; but it shall be the duty of the board to pay the moneys due to such contractor for such materials to the judgment creditor of the contractor, under whose execution such materials might otherwise have been sold, upon his producing to them due proof that his execution would have so attached, and such payment shall be held as a valid payment on the contract.

Sec 10. And be it enacted, That for the purpose of purchasing materials and constructing the said Atlanta Water-Works, the board of commissioners shall be authorized to issue for, and in behalf of, the city of Atlanta, certain obligations which shall be known as "Atlanta Water Bonds," and of such denominations as convenience requires, to the amount not exceeding three hundred thousand dollars, ($300,000) bearing interest at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, redeemable at the city of New York, thiry years from date, the interest of which shall be paid annually in the city of New York, on all bonds to which this act refers.

Sec. 11. And be it enacted That for the purpose of paying interest on bonds, which shall have been sold, and before a revenue can be realized from said water-works, not yet completed, the interest which may fall due on bonds disposed of, the Mayor and Council of Atlanta shall provide by tax for the payment of said interest.

Sec. 12. And be it enacted, That the said board shall regulate the distribution and use of the water in all places and for all purposes, where the same may be required, and from time to time shall fix the price for the use thereof, and the times of payment, and they may erect such number of public hydrants, and in such places as they shall see fit, and direct in what manner and for what purposes the same shall be used; all of which they may change at their direction, provided that all conducts or appliances, required and furnished for the purpose of the extinguishment of fires, shall be erected at the expense of the Mayor and common Council of the city of Atlanta, and placed as they shall direct, and be under their exclusive control and direction.

Sec. 13. And be it enacted, That the said board shall have full power and authority to require the payment in advance for the use or rents of water furnished by them in or upon any building, place or premises, and in case of prompt payment for the same shall not be made, they may shut off the water from such building, place or premises, and shall not be compelled again to supply said building, place or premises, with water, until said arrears, with interest thereon, shall be fully paid.

Sec. 14. And be it enacted, That the said board shall make no contracts for the price of using the water for a longer term than three years, and at the expiration of any term or lease, the price for the use thereof, shall be adjusted according to the regulations then established.

Sec. 15. And be it enacted, That if any person, or persons, shall maliciously or willfully divert the water, or any portion thereof, from the said works, or shall corrupt or render the same impure, or shall destroy or injure any canal, aqueduct, pipe, conduct, machinery, or other property used or required for procuring or distributing the water, such person, or persons, and their aiders and abettors, shall forfeit to the said board, to be recovered in an action of trespass, treble the amount of damages, (besides cost of suit,) which shall appear on trial to have been sustained, and all such acts are hereby declared to be misdemeanors, and the parties found guilty thereof, may be further punished by fine, not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment, not exceeding one year, or both, at the discretion of the court.

Sec. 16 And be it enacted, That all lands and real estate, and property of every kind so held, as aforesaid, by the said bonds, for and in the name of the Mayor and Common Council of the city of Atlanta, shall be exempted from all taxes and assessments.

Sec. 17. And be it enacted, That the said board shall be authorized to execute promissory notes, or accept drafts for any of the legitimate purposes of the said work, in anticipation of the receipt of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds hereinbefore authorized to be issued by them, or of the revenue of the said works; provided, however, that the whole amount of the permanent indebtedness of the city to be incurred by them, by virtue of this act, shall not exceed the sum of five hundred thousand dollars.

Sec. 18. And be it enacted, That the said board shall have power to make rules and regulations respecting the introduction of the water into or upon any premises; and, from time to time, to regulate the use thereof in such manner as shall seem to them necessary and proper; and the members of said board, and all engineers, superintendents or inspectors in their service, are hereby authorized and empowered to enter, at all seasonable hours, any dwelling or other place, where said water is taken or used, and where unnecessary waste thereof is known or suspected, and examine and inquire into the cause thereof; they shall have full power to examine all service pipes, stop-cocks, and other apparatus connected with said works for the purpose of ascertaining whether the same are of the character and dimensions, and fixed in the manner directed in the permits issued therefor; and if any person or persons shall refuse to permit such examination, or oppose or obstruct such officer in the performance of such duty, he, she or they, so offending, shall be liable to such penalty, not exceeding ten dollars for each offense, as the board may impose, and the supply of water may also be shut off until the required examination is made, and such alteration and repairs are completed as may be necessary.

Sec. 19. And be it enacted, That for the purpose of enabling the treasurer of the said city of Atlanta to pay the interest upon the bonds issued by virtue of this act, it shall be the duty of the said board to pay annually to the said treasurer, and at least one week prior to the time when such payment shall become due, all the net revenue of their said works for the preceding six months, unless the said revenue shall be more than is sufficient for said payment, in which case they shall pay to the said treasurer only a sufficient sum for that purpose; in order to create a fund for the payment of the said bonds at their maturity, it shall be the duty of the Mayor and Council of said city of Atlanta to raise annually, by tax, the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars, until said bonds shall be paid and redeemed, which sum the treasurer of said city shall annually, on the first Monday in November of each year, pay over to the said board for that purpose; the said board are hereby authorized to invest the said sum, from time to time, together with such net revenue as may from year to year remain in their hands after paying all necessary expenses of said work, and the interest upon said bonds as a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds; the said board shall have power to make such rules and regulations respecting the management of the said fund as they shall deem expedient, but no part thereof shall, at any time, be used in any manner inconsistent herewith; they shall keep accurate accounts of the said fund in distinct and seperate books from those in which their other accounts are kept, and shall annually make a full and detailed report of the state of the said fund to the Mayor and Council; in case the revenue, received by the board, shall not, in any year, be sufficient to pay the said interest and all necessary expenses of said works, the said fact shall be reported in their semi-annual statements by the said board, to the Mayor and Council, and it shall, therefore, be the duty of said Council to pay over to the said board an amount of funds equal to said deficiency; and, if necessary, they may raise said amount of tax in the next year thereafter.

Sec. 20. And be it enacted, That the members of said board shall not receive any compensation for their services, but shall be repaid for all reasonable expenses they may incur while in the performance of their duties; the said Mayor and Council shall be authorized, by a committee of their own number, or otherwise, to inspect, semi-annually, or oftener, the state and condition of the works and property, and all property thereto belonging, and the said board shall give them every reasonable facility and assistance in making such inspection.

Sec. 21 And be it enacted, That the Mayor and Council of the city of Atlanta may at any time remove any member of said board; provided, it shall satisfactorily appear, after reasonable notice to the parties, and hearing the causes of complaint and answer thereto, if any shall be offered, that the member whose removal is sought has been guilty of such mal-administration, or such neglect of the duties of his office, that his removal will be right and proper, and two-thirds of all the members elected to the said council shall concur in such removal.

Sec. 22. And be it enacted, That this act shall be deemed a public act, and take effect immediately.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Revenue to-day $576,000.

The President has appointed William W. Bell collector of internal revenue for the third district of Mississippi, and Henry W. Bowden assessor of the second district of Virginia.

The Georgia bill, as approved by the President, provides that the State of Georgia, having complied with the reconstruction acts and the 14th and 15th articles of amendment to the Constitution of the United States having been ratified in good faith by a legal Legislature of said State, it is hereby declared that the State of Georgia is entitled to representation in the Congress of the United States. But nothing in this act shall be construed to deprive the people of Georgia of the right to an election for members of the General Assembly, as provided for in the Constitution thereof; and nothing in this or any other act of Congress shall be construed to affect the term for which any officer has been appointed, or any member of the General Assembly elected, as prescribed by the Constitution of the State of Georgia.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, July 16.—The absolute withdrawal of Prince Leopold is generally credited.

BERLIN, July 16.—The Government is hourly in receipt of dispatches from all parts of Germany, offering men, money, arms, horses, etc., in support of the national cause, and asserting that no sacrifice that can be made will be deemed too great for the cause of Germany.

The Government recommends Bremen as the port of refuge for German shipping.

PARIS, July 16.—Prince Napoleon arrived in Norway yesterday. He received a dispatch from Paris, and will return immediately.

The journals, this morning, publishes the following statement:

"Eight days ago Bismarck sent, by a special messenger, to Werther, the ambassador of the German Confederation, an order to make no concession to the French Government. 'Do not be too much impressed,' Bismarck continues, 'we are ready. Prolong the situation, if possible, to the 20th of July.'"

The Journals argues from this that Prussia meant war from the beginning, and sought only to gain time.

The Emperor will leave Paris to-day for the seat of war. The Prince Imperial will accompany him to the field. The Emperor desires this, and the Empress does not object. The military attendants of the Prince are in readiness.

Prince Napoleon, as soon as he arrives from Norway, will be charged with an important mission to Italy.

The journals assert that the French Government, as soon as the result of the vote on infallibility dogma was known here, signed an order for the recall of the troops from Rome.

Bourse to-day opened declining. Rentes 7lf. 60c.

Count Benedetti arrived in this city last night, coming from Ems instead of from Berlin. He did not receive his passports. He came to give the Emperor verbal explanations.

Nothing positive has been ascertained yet concerning the alliance between France and Austria.

It is also reported that Austria will remain neutral. Werther, the North German minister, and all the members of his embassy, left Paris yesterday afternoon for Berlin.

The French squadron in the Mediterranean has been doubled. Vice Admiral De la Grovlere is in command.

There is great activity at the War Department to-day. Large numbers of sealed orders have been sent in various directions.

Lord Lynns, the English minister, is still trying to get his colleagues here to present a collective request for a Congress of the European powers, to settle the question between France and Prussia.

NIGHT DISPATCHES.

Foreign.

PARIS, July 16.—A dispatch from Seltz, Bas Rhine, about twenty-seven miles from Strasbourg, was received this afternoon.

The Prussians have entered France by way of Forback, in the department of Moselle, on the Maney and Manheim Railway; but as the Prussian force is said to be only a detached corps, but little importance is attached to the report.

The French forces near the frontiers are now estimated at 130,000 men.

It is believed that the Prussians will attack the fortified city of Metz, the capital of the department of Moselle, and an important railroad centre. They are moving on it from two directions—one body by way of Thionville and another by the way of Lehl.

It is said that the French forces are throwing a bridge over the Rhine near Kehl.

The Liberte of to-day says the Count Benedetti's dispatch was not communicated to the Chambers yesterday, because it contained, besides matter from Count Von Bismarck, projects looking to a certain alliance with France, and which may be realized to-morrow.

The Emperor returned to St. Cloud after the Council of Ministers to-day.

Last evening artists of various pleasure gardens in the city received permission to sing the Marseillaise, the audience in all cases joining, amid great excitement and enthusiasm.

Last night many citizens called upon and congratulated the Emperor.

Several club houses were illuminated last evening.

All bridges on the frontier between Belgium and France have been destroyed, so that the territory of the former shall be respected.

The Senate will vote to-day on the measures adopted yesterday by the Corps Legislatif, after which the declaration of war will be officially transmitted to all governments in diplomatic relations with France.

LONDON, July 16.—Rumors are in circulation to the effect that Russia and Prussia are in strict accord in the struggle against France.

The Prince Imperial will go with the Emperor to the Rhine frontier.

The camp at Chalons will be broken up immediately.

General Le Boeuf exchanges the war portfolio for a field command.

Holland declines the offer made by Prussia, of an army to defend her frontier.

Edmund About will go to the front as war correspondent of the Moniteur.

It is said that France will oppose the Prussian rifled cannon, revolving cannon, shooting forty balls per minute, and perhaps Lyman's American gun.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE.

WILL be sold before the court-house door in the town of Cartersville, Bartow county, Georgia, on the first Tuesday in September next, within the legal hours of sale, what is known as the three miles southwest of Cartersville, and bounded on the southwest by the Etowah river, and otherwise by the lands of Lewis Tumlin, Dr. Robert M. Young, and others, containing more or less, six hundred acres of which are in a high state of cultivation, and of the best quality of corn, wheat and cotton land; there are about two hundred acres of first quality river bottom land, the balance what is known as table land, and by many regarded as the best land in this section of the country. The road from Cartersville to Douthitt's Ferry divides the land about equally, leaving a settlement on each side of the road, with comfortable dwelling houses, negro cabins and out-houses on each. The place will be sold in two settlements, as divided by the aforesaid road. The timbered land will be sold so as to give about equal quantities to each settlement. The plantation is all under good fencing, and in a high state of cultivation. There is also a considerable orchard on the place of Apple and Peach trees. This is, altogether, one of the most desirable plantations in Bartow county. Property sold by authority of the will of the testator. Terms: One-half cash, balance payable in two equal annual payments of one and two years; bond given for titles, and when all the purchase money is paid, deed will be made. The land can be seen or particulars obtained, by calling on or addressing C B. Conyers, Cartersville, Georgia, or M L Pritchett, on the premises.

BENNETT CONYERS PLACE,

M L PRITCHETT,
Administrator of Bennett H. Conyers, deceased, with Will annexed. july17-d6t-wtds

BRICK FOR SALE.

THE undersigned have at their kiln near Conyers, 125,000 first-class Brick now ready for delivery, which they will sell at a fair price, with a sufficient force of hands in the Yard to keep a constant supply. The Yard is conveniently located on the Georgia Railroad. Any order sent us for Brick will be promptly filled. A sample of our Brick can be seen at the store of Tommey & Stewart, Atlanta, Georgia; also, at J. J. Spencer's office, Railroad Agent, Covington, Georgia, in a few days.
WM. GALLAWAY,

ON NEXT FRIDAY,

THE 22D OF JULY, 1870,

WE will sell, on the premises, in Hurtville, on the Georgia Railroad, two and a-half miles from the centre of the Gate City, SIXTY ACRES OF LAND, divided into Twenty Villa Lots, nine of which average Five Acres each, and are "models for gardens, dairies, vineyards, or cottage residences." Call at our office and see the plat of the property. A train of cars will leave Whitehall crossing, at 3 o'clock P. M., and return at 7½ o'clock P. M., conveying parties to and from the sale, free of charge. Plenty of fresh water-melons, ice-water and pure Cincinnati beer will be freely served. Arrange your business in time, so you can attend this sale, and be a party to this pleasant evening excursion. Titles perfect. Terms: One-third cash, balance at sixty and ninety days, without interest.

Whitehall and Pryor St. Lots.

I WILL sell on the premises, on Thursday, 21st instant, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, a residence lot on Whitehall street, as per plat. This lot fronts 50 feet on Whitehall. Will sell either 177 or 200 feet deep. It is the most central residence lot now on the market; has every natural advantage for sewerage, now becoming a matter of importance in selecting central residence lots. The city will soon furnish water, when all residence lots will need grade to reach the streets for drainage. This lot has all the desired advantages, and will be sold with perfect titles. Term: Half cash, balance sixty and ninety days, with interest.
Immediately after selling the lot on Whitehall, I will proceed to sell an excellent residence lot on Pryor street, between Colonel Wellborn and J. C. Reynolds, 50x200 feet, to 10 foot alley, as shown in above plat. This is admirably adapted to building, and in a choice part of the city. Terms: Half cash, balance sixty and ninety days, with interest. Also, on corner of Pryor and Jones, opposite Dr. Thompson's residence, a lot 50x165½ feet. These lots are very desirable for those who want residence lots in a choice neighborhood, close to business.

The Constitution.

Atlanta, Georgia, July 17, 1870.

We learn that Rev. Dr. Cross, Pastor of St. [illegible], will preach at St. Philip's Church [illegible].

Rev. William Henry Strickland will preach at the 1st Baptist Church this morning at 10½ o'clock.

Tallulah Falls House is under process of erection. When completed, it will be a handsome edifice.

Services will be held at the German Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner of Broad and Marietta streets, second story, at 10½ o'clock to-day. Hermann Becker, pastor.

Elder J. S. Lamar, of Augusta, Georgia, will preach in the Christian church, on Hunter street, this morning at 10½ o'clock, and to-night at 8 o'clock.

The Tebbs House, Dalton.—This house is an excellent one. Mr. Campbell still runs it, and has an efficient clerk in Mr. Benjamin Kimball. Dalton is an important point, and is fortunate in its good hotel.

Ornament for the Fair.—Quite a crowd was out yesterday afternoon at the fair ground, to witness the young men practice for the tournament at the coming fair.

The mammoth Green Turtle, shipped by Richard Owens, Brunswick, to P. P. Pease, will be slaughtered by Terhune & Thomas, 217 A. M., and sold by them at No. 3 Market, Whitehall street, between the hours of 8 and 9 A. M. Monday. Come all who love soup.

The deed of Thomas H. Walsh and Rosannah Walsh to John H. Bohler, transferred to Mrs. Catherine Meyers, has been found and left at this office for the owner upon his paying for this notice.

Our young friends, Hunnicutt & Chapman, have received a new apparatus by which they can take from one to seventy-two "pictures." It is an improvement over the old instrument and gives an improved likeness.

Fair Grounds.—The fair grounds are being rapidly put in order. Mr. Kimball is determined that everything shall be arranged in style, and we have no doubt that when completed they will be the finest grounds in the South.

Soda Water.—Messrs. Redwine & Fox continue to supply the thirsty with their delicious soda water. If there is anything Atlanta is celebrated for, it is for the excellent quality of the soda water that can be had at the different fountains.

FFF.—Reader, have you ever tried the Rome Mills Flour? Messrs. Stewart & Austin are selling large quantities of this celebrated flour through their agents, Messrs. P. & G. T. Dodd & Co., Atlanta, Georgia. The FFF brand makes as white and pretty bread as can be made.

The New Hotel.—We visited the new hotel yesterday, and were surprised at the progress made upon it. There are three hundred hands employed. This hotel will be one of the best constructed in the country, especially as regards ventilation and light.

City Finances.—The bonded debt of Atlanta is set down at $789,500, including Air-Line Railroad and Fair Ground bonds. These should not be counted however. Deducting, therefore, $375,000 from the bonded debt leaves $414,500. The assets of the city foot up, city property $600,750, value of real estate $9,500,000, value of other property $2,500,000, annual income $170,000, total $12,774,750. This shows well for the present administration.

[Communicated.]

Atlanta and Her Sunday-School Interests.—Mr. Local: Will you allow me the space to discuss briefly the Sunday School system as established and practiced in this country. While I am willing to admit that it has assumed wonderful proportions, yet it is true that our efforts have fallen very far short of that success in doing good that we might have secured.

While I admire the enthusiasm of many of our co-laborers in the Sunday School cause, it seems to me that they have not fully appreciated the necessities of the cause. It will be readily remembered by all who are familiar with the workings of Sunday Schools in England, and perhaps other countries, that this enterprise is specially in behalf of the poor and ignorant classes of society—those who are destitute of religious instruction at home. In the Church of England no such schools are known; the boys and girls from the parochial schools, however, are required to attend the regular church service and engage in its responses—they being usually grouped on the right of the church. Among other sects known as dissenters it is different.

The Wesleyan Methodists, and perhaps others, have schools similar to ours in this country; but the great Sunday School enterprises, as put into operation by the inspired Robert Raikes, are directed specially to the poor outcast, found in rags and poverty, who do not come directly under the influence of some of the established churches. These are collected together in large numbers, and brought under rigid discipline, and not only instructed in matters of religion, but are taught to read and write, and are kept out of the streets and highways on the Sabbath, and taught to respect that holy day. Many shining stars are in this way brought to light, and made respectable and virtuous, yea religious.

I do not propose to find fault with our present system—I think it a good one. Yet I must confess that, in my humble judgment, it falls too far short of the great object at which we should all aim, to-wit: The Christianizing of the children of our land and making them good moral citizens.

Let us take our Atlanta Sunday Schools, which will compare favorably in numbers, intelligence, etc., with any in the land, and I will venture the assertion that, in our denominational schools, three-fourths, at least, of the pupils, are children of the church, who receive religious instruction at home, and least need the Sunday School influence; and even they constitute but a small proportion of the children in the city. Let us see. I take the statistics of each school, counting all who are on their rolls, though many of them do not attend:

|---|---|
| First Baptist Church | 175 |
| Second Baptist Church | 300 |
| First Presbyterian | 210 |
| Central Presbyterian | 220 |
| Wesley Chapel | 300 |
| Trinity | 300 |
| Payne's Chapel | 200 |
| Evans' Chapel | 200 |
| Christian Church | 80 |
| St. Philips | 125 |
| Catholic (Pastor's absence prevents knowing accurately) about | 225 |
| Fourth Ward | 60 |
| Green B. Haygood | 75 |
| Lutheran | 25 |
| M. E. Church | 70 |
| Total number | 2,465 |

Now, the white population of the city (for the above is based on the white schools) is about 20,000. Take the children between the ages of six and sixteen, and at the proportion of one-fourth of the whites, we have 5,000 children. Then deduct from this the number in the above statistics, and we have about 2,500 children, who are not brought under the Sunday School influence at all. Thus we see there about 600 in the schools who would otherwise be destitute of religious instruction, and four times as many, of like condition, who are outside of the glorious Sunday School influence. Is it not fearful for a professed Christian to contemplate? Do you ask how it may be remedied? Let the pastors call a meeting of all Christians in the city, and let us form a Sunday School Christians' Association. We have five city wards. Let these wards be divided into small districts or sections, and let the Christian young men and women put themselves at the disposal of the association. Let them be assigned to this great work during Sabbath evenings, as this would not interfere with the regular denominational schools.

Let these teachers, when practicable, establish schools; when not practicable, let them visit these poor children, who are dying for want of spiritual food. Let them visit the hovels and dig these little ones up from their mire of degradation, and save them physically, mentally and spiritually. Carry them tracts, papers, Bibles, and that which is much needed in those places, words and deeds of cheer and comfort. Oh, what a glorious and inviting field for the true Christian.

Mr. Editor, I may seem enthusiastic, but this is not an empty theory, and my picture is not overdrawn—my facts not exaggerated. I name only a few of the necessities that look us boldly in the face. We have the remedy. Let the young Christians, who love their race and serve their God, take this field as the find it and determine to meet the responsibility. What say you? Would you not be happy in "going about doing good?"

Respectfully, F. M. Richardson,
Superintendent Trinity Sunday School.

[illegible] ... Pending the [illegible] argument for plaintiff in error, Court adjourned until [illegible], 9 A. M., Tuesday next. Monday is consultation day as usual.

[illegible] ... Another meeting is called for Monday (to-morrow) at half-past four o'clock. Let all the ladies turn out, as business of great importance is to be transacted, touching the [illegible] of the Fair.

In a visit to the office of the Secretary of the State Agricultural Society yesterday, we observed, from the many letters received there, that the approaching agricultural convention, assembling here on the 16th of August, is creating quite a deep interest throughout the State. Even Dougherty and Randolph counties, we learn, will send delegates to the convention. From present appearances we anticipate a large attendance.

Conyers, on the Georgia Railroad, is a thriving, quiet, yet go-ahead town. She has 4 blacksmith shops, 2 wood wagon shops, 2 shoe shops, 4 millinery shops, 15 retail stores, 4 [illegible], 3 hotels, 1 lathing mill, 1 flour mill, 1 paper mill in process of construction, (2 latter 2 miles out of town,) 1 academy, 2 private schools with 140 scholars, 2 churches, (Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian,) and a population of between 1,200 and 1,400. The crops in the neighborhood are fine.

Atlanta High School Examination.

Mr. Editor: Notices of the recent examination of the above school, which appeared in the city papers, seem to indicate an ignorance of the writers in regard to the organization of the faculty. Messrs. Jones, Richardson & Moore are co-proprietors of the institution, each at the head of a department, and all as equals labor jointly to promote the advancement of those committed to their charge. Justice to those whose names have been omitted in the above notices, and to whom equal credit is due for whatever success the institution may have achieved, is the apology for the foregoing correction. It is strange, Mr. Editor, that this should occur for successive years. A Visitor.

Look at the Ruins.—Aye, look at the ruins of what once were magnificent sets of teeth, to be seen everywhere in society. Look at them, and ask yourself if it is not marvelous that such destruction is permitted, when, by simply using Sozodont, any teeth, however fragile, may be preserved from decay or blemish as long as life lasts?

Bradfield's Female Regulator has gained such notoriety on account of its wonderful merit, that not less than a half dozen other parties, with articles without merit in themselves, have changed the names of their articles to Female Regulator, and are thus trying to impose upon the afflicted their worthless article, and steal from us our well-earned reputation.

☞ None genuine unless signed J. Bradfield. july13-dtf

When, by reason of the disordered action of the liver, the bile, instead of freely passing into the bowels, where it is required as a laxative, overflows into the stomach, the result is what is ordinarily termed biliousness. To arrest the distressing and debilitating misapplication of one of the most important of the animal fluids, it is necessary that the powerful gland which produces it—the liver—should be toned and regulated; and nothing accomplishes this object more speedily as a persevering use of Lippman's Great German Bitters. The household tonic of Germany for upwards of a century. july12-deod1w&w1t

A Cross Husband.—Mrs. Smith—The fact is, my husband is becoming so outrageously cross and nervous that there is no living with him. He pretends one day that he has got the dyspepsia; the next day liver complaint; the next is sick, with no appetite—declares that there is nothing on the table fit to eat, and so on. It is all nonsense, and nothing but his confounded ugliness. From the very bottom of my heart, I believe he wants to worry me to death.

Lady Friend—Mrs. Smith, I think you are wrong. No woman has a kinder or more indulgent husband than you. I must confess that I have noticed a change in Mr. Smith; but am inclined to think that all he wants is a tonic; and if I were you, I would not be a day without Plantation Bitters in the house. Make him take them moderately three times a day, and in a short time I think you will see a change. My experience is that Plantation Bitters is one of the best and most delicious tonics in the world; and that for nervousness, loss of appetite, dyspepsia and all kindred complaints, there is nothing so good.

Interesting to Merchants and Manufacturers.—The Premium List of the Georgia State Fair will be issued at once, commencing with an edition of 10,000 copies. It will be sent to hundreds of thousands of people.

It is an annual publication, and will long be preserved as a reference. Our merchants and business men, generally cannot avail themselves of a better method of advertising than this. Retail merchants cannot conceive a better plan of advertising their goods during the ten days the Fair is in operation.

The managers of the Fair have engaged the services of Mr. J. W. Bigsby to solicit advertisements, and authorized him to receipt for the same. july11-dtf

"A Thing of Beauty is a Joy Forever."—What is it? Something prepared for women only, and to be used by them exclusively. It is adapted especially to cases where the womb is disordered, and will cure all irregularities of the "menses" or "monthly courses," by restoring the discharge in every instance whether acute or chronic. Where is it? Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator—Woman's Best Friend—is prepared and sold by L. H. Koskoo.—This medicine is rapidly gaining the confidence of the people, and the numerous testimonials of its virtues, given by practitioners of medicine, leaves no doubt that it is a safe and reliable remedy for impurity of the blood, liver disease, etc.

The last Medical Journal contains an article from Prof. R. S. Newton, M. D., President of the E. Medical College, city of New York, that speaks in high terms of its curative properties, and gives a special recommendation of Koskoo to the practitioners of medicine. This is, we believe, the first instance where such medicines have been officially endorsed by the Faculty of any of the medical colleges, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Dr. Lawrence, its compounder, and also puts "Koskoo" in the van of all other medicines of the present day. feb26-d&w6m

Build up the System.—Strength evaporates fast at this season. This is especially the case with all who live by the sweat of their brow. From every pore of the sieve-like skin a moisture exudes which contains the elements of vitality. Thereby the blood is impoverished, the nerves relaxed, the muscles weakened, the digestion impaired, the bowels disturbed, and the animal spirits depressed. The constant drain that produces these effects cannot be arrested, because it is due to the heat of the atmosphere; but the loss of the life-sustaining elements can be supplied by extra invigoration. Now, therefore, is the time to resort to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most powerful and healthful of all vegetable tonics. Long experience has proved that nothing else will efficiently sustain and regulate the system, when wilting down under the double pressure of excessive heat, and constant physical or mental labor. All persons who have been tempted to try the local "tonics" (so-called) which have been started by sordid speculators in almost every town and village, with a view of "turning a penny" by the credulity of the unwary, know this to their cost. It is a wise maxim that says "hold fast to that which is good." Of the forty millions of people in the United States, probably one-fifth have tested the restorative properties of Hostetter's Bitters and know it to be a specific for dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous weakness, general debility, constipation, fever and ague, and want of appetite; that any of these should be persuaded to experiment with the worthless nostrums recommended by unscrupulous and ignorant empirics seems almost incredible. july12-deod1w&w1t

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last [illegible] years [illegible] ... is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 400,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people—a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

We are now selling Waltham Watches at less prices [illegible] ... made in the United States of which this can be said.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's Patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust-proof caps, protecting the movement from dust and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above mentioned improvements which tend to insure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

Every watch guaranteed by the Company.

To prevent imposition, buyers should see that every watch should bear either of the following trade marks:

|---|---|
| American Watch Co. | Waltham, Mass. |
| Amn. Watch Co. | Waltham, Mass. |

ARGYLE BITTERS.

The superiority of the above named article over any other Bitters is now admitted in every instance where a comparison has been made. The Proprietors most respectfully inform the public that the high reputation they have so justly acquired has been on their intrinsic merits alone. The ingredients used, in point of purity, excellence and medicinal qualities, are not surpassed, imparting a richness and delicacy of flavor heretofore unequaled by any combination of medicines having any claim for the relief of the following complaints, for which the

are especially recommended, viz:

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Diseases of the Stomach, Nervousness, Jaundice, Billious Complaints, Costiveness, Cramps, Flatulency, Griping Pains, Heartburn, Liver Complaint, Loss of Appetite, Lowness of Spirits or Melancholy, Pains in the Side or Back, Sick and Nervous Headache, Etc., Etc.

All the virtues of the true CALISAYA BARK are to be found in the ARGYLE BITTERS, making them the best Appetizer and gentle Tonic in all cases of General Debility and Derangement of the Stomach and Digestive Organs, that it is possible to produce.

Being mild in effect and pleasant to the taste, they are especially recommended to delicate females as a gentle soothing and invigorating tonic.

The following important Certificate from Dr. L. L. Crawcour, an eminent Chemist and Physician of this city, speaks so favorably of the Argyle Bitters, we deem it superfluous to add anything further:

284 Camp Street, New Orleans, September 1, 1869.

Messrs. Wheelock, Finlay & Co.:

Gentlemen—I have carefully examined your Argyle Bitters, and from my knowledge of their ingredients can safely recommend them as a good and reliable tonic and especially as a corrective of that morbid desire which so frequently affects those addicted to the use of ardent spirits. The chief ingredients being the best Calisaya Bark, renders them peculiarly fitted for the use of those residing in malarious districts, as they will not only act as a preventive against intermittent diseases, but in a large number of cases may cure it when it has made its appearance.

is guaranteed by the Proprietors a safe, certain, speedy and effectual curer for Fever and Ague, Dumb Chills, Costive Chills, Bilious Remittent Fever, and all Malarious Diseases. [illegible] contains no poison, either vegetable or mineral. The sale of this article in the Southern States is immense. It has the indorsement of the first Physicians of our city and is in use in the Charity Hospital. A single bottle is all that is required to effect a permanent cure, and it has never yet been known to fail. On the [illegible] of proofs being rendered to us, we will refund the price paid if it fails to cure.

Deep on the convent roof the snows
Are sparkling to the moon,
My breath to heaven like vapor goes;
May my soul follow soon!
The shadows of the convent towers
Slant down the snowy sward,
Still creeping with the creeping hours,
That lead me to my Lord;
Make Thou my spirit pure and clear
As are the frosty skies,
Or this first snowdrop of the year
That on my bosom lies.

As these white robes are soiled in dark,
To yonder shining ground;
As this pale taper's earthly spark,
To yonder argent round;
So shows my soul before the Lamb,
My spirit before Thee;
So in mine earthly house I am,
To that I hope to be.
Break up the Heavens, O Lord! and far
Thro' all yon starlight keen,
Draw me Thy bride, a glittering star
In raiment white and clean.

He lifts me to the golden doors;
The flashes come and go;
All Heaven bursts her starry floors,
And strows her light below,
And deepens on and up! the gates
Roll back, and far within,
For me the Heavenly Bridegroom waits
To make me pure of sin.
The Sabbaths of Eternity,
One Sabbath deep and wide;
A light upon the shining sea,
The Bridegroom with his Bride!

Our Augusta Letter.

AUGUSTA, GA., July 15, 1870.

Editors Constitution: We are having oppressively hot weather. Rain seasonable. Crop prospect hereabout superior. A farmer, a few miles from this city, has turned his attention to raising grain as well as cotton. He has succeeded in making a splendid crop of barley, which will bring a good price.

Watermelons plentiful; prices high on account of speculation.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS

On every hand. By the way, I am glad to note the increasing, and ever increasing interest manifested in educational matters by the people and press. The leaven is working in Augusta for a very decided improvement in our public schools. I informed you sometime since of the action of the grand jury, authorizing the Ordinary, as ex-officio treasurer of the school fund, to borrow money enough to pay off the teachers from January to July 1. I trust the next step will be levying a double tax, one year, so as to have funds with which to meet all county demands. It would seem to be tolerably burdensome at first glance, but would prove a great saving. Such tax would need be levied only one year; thereafter half the sum would suffice, in that, under such management, the double amount collected at the end of the year would meet the indebtedness of the closing year, and have funds in hand for the full new year. I mention this item because it is applicable to sister counties, and will prove a matter of the first importance when the State comes to organize and put into operation a public school system.

ANOTHER NEWSPAPER.

Augusta will probably boast an additional daily newspaper by the ides of November. It will be eminently local and newsy.

FATAL SHOOTING.

You have been advised of the fatal shooting affray which occurred in this city on Wednesday evening last, between Mr. Simeon M. Myers and Mr. J. Joseph Clayton, in which the former received a shot which terminated his existence. The obsequies occurred to-day, and were largely attended. The affray is greatly deplored.

MIGNONNE.

Crops in Troup.

LAGRANGE, GA., July 15, 1870.

Editors Constitution: As any information in reference to the growing cotton crop is, at this time, of general interest to the planters of the South, I propose to present a few thoughts on the subject, designed to correct, to some extent, prevalent errors.

The opinion is common, if we may judge from what the papers say, that the present crop is very fine, and the prospect flattering for a heavy yield.

From my knowledge of the cotton plant, obtained from long experience, I am satisfied that nothing is more erroneous than this opinion, at least in this and adjoining counties, and I risk nothing in asserting that the crop is all of three to four weeks later than that of last year, and not so good by twenty-five to fifty per cent. I derive this knowledge from actual observation and from the testimony of many of our oldest and most experienced planters.

But in the face of these facts, for facts they are, it is published all over the country, from east to west, that the crop is unprecedentedly fine, and must be the heaviest for years, the result of which is the price is depressed, and the planters have the prospect of getting a poor price for a light crop. This state of things is induced from several causes, in most of which the planter himself is to blame.

It is well known that many, indeed the most of our farmers, have given what are termed "crop liens" to obtain supplies, on which to make the crop, and as the aid granted is proportionate to his prospects for a good crop, the prospect is often represented as better than it really is, and thus the planter is, to a great extent, responsible for the false opinion gone abroad that the present crop is the best known for years. And there are many planters in the country who, hearing their neighbors give such fine accounts of their crops, are induced, in order to keep up with others, to brag on their crops and thus swell the tide of this false testimony, without one time reflecting that they are pursuing a suicidal policy for themselves. Then the speculator takes up the cry of large crop, fine prospects, etc., and does what he can to depress the price of the staple, using only the weapon placed in his hands by the planters themselves.

And then there are those who, without careful examination of their own crops, speak of them as very promising. And thus, from different motives, the planters are conspiring against their own interests and furnishing the cudgel to break their own heads.

Now, Mr. Editor, I close by saying I know whereof I speak; that the crop is universally, in this section, at least, poor, except isolated patches of favored or highly fertilized lands, and however propitious the season may be, is bound to be short. Therefore, I hope, for their own interest and the common good of the South, that my brother planters will abandon this cut-throat policy, and examine carefully the size, development and fruitage of their cotton, and then speak of it as the facts justify; for, otherwise, we shall ever be hewers of wood and drawers of water for the North and West.

Grain crop good. Corn crop fine; so with wheat and oats.

PLANTER.

IMPORTANT REVENUE DECISION.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, in reply to an inquiry addressed to his office, respecting the liabilities on wine manufacturers from grapes, berries, or fruits of their own growth, renders the following decision: "Manufacturers of wine from grapes, berries, or fruits of their own growth, are not liable to special tax as manufacturers or liquor dealers for selling such wine at the place where the same is made. Where such wines are sold, however, at any other place of manufacture, liability to payment of tax as liquor dealers is incurred; and where wines are manufactured from grapes, berries, or fruits not of their own growth, they should pay special tax as manufacturers and as liquor dealers for selling their products, whether selling the same at the place of manufacture or otherwise." This ruling reverses the decisions of former commissioners.

☞ One of the most astounding errors of the first Napoleon was the creating of kingdoms, and the placing of his brothers on their thrones. Of these, the father of Napoleon the third, as Louis of Holland, did all in his power to please his subjects. He founded an order, the insignia of which was composed of the arms of the principal cities of the kingdoms, lions, leopards, eagles, etc. His wife, Hortense, called it "the order of the menagerie," and the mot killed it. The poor king learned Dutch, and on one occasion, when surrounded by his ministers, etc., in opening Parliament, he assured them in his speech, he was happy to see them thus surrounding their king (Konig); but he mispronounced the word, and instead of king, uttered Konyn, which meant a "rabbit," which furnished laughter for a month, and a good jest forever.

KOSKOO!

THE GREAT REPUTATION

Which KOSKOO has attained in all parts of the country

AS A GREAT AND GOOD MEDICINE

And the Large Numbers of Testimonials

which are constantly being received from Physicians, and persons who have been cured by its use, is conclusive proof of its remarkable value.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER,

IT HAS NO EQUAL,

BEING POSITIVELY

The Most Powerful Vegetable Alterative Yet Discovered.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

"The life of the flesh is in the Blood," is a Scriptural maxim that science proves to be true. The people talk of bad blood, as the cause of many diseases, and like many popular opinions, this of bad blood is founded in truth.

The symptoms of bad blood are usually quite plain—bad Digestion—causes imperfect nutrition, and consequently the circulation is feeble, the soft tissues lose their tone and elasticity, and the tongue becomes pale, broad, and frequently covered with a pasty, white coat. This condition soon shows itself in roughness of the skin, then in eruptive and ulcerative diseases, and when long continued, results in serious lesions of the Brain, Liver, Lungs, or urinary apparatus. Much, very much, suffering is caused by impure blood. It is estimated by some that one-fifth of the human family are affected with scrofula in some form.

When the Blood is pure, you are not so liable to any disease. Many impurities of the Blood arise from impure diseases of large cities. Eradicate every impurity from the fountain of life, and good spirits, fair skin and vital strength will return to you.

KOSKOO,

AS A

Liver Invigorator!

STANDS UNRIVALLED.

Being the only KNOWN Medicine that EFFICIENTLY stimulates and CORRECTS the hepatic secretions and functional DERANGEMENTS of the LIVER, WITHOUT DEBILITATING the system. While it acts freely upon the Liver instead of copious purging, it gradually changes the discharges to a perfectly natural state.

SYMPTOMS OF LIVER COMPLAINT AND OF SOME OF THOSE DISEASES PRODUCED BY IT.

A sallow or yellow color of the skin, or yellowish-brown spots on the face and other parts of the body; dullness and drowsiness, sometimes headache; bitter or bad taste in the mouth, internal heat; in many cases a dry, teasing cough; unsteady appetite; sometimes sour stomach, with a raising of the food; a bloated or full feeling about the stomach and sides; aggravating pains in the side, back, or breast, and about the shoulders; constipation of the bowels; piles, flatulence, coldness of the extremities, etc.

KOSKOO!

Is a remedy of Wonderful Efficacy in the cure of diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder. In these Affections it is as near a specific as any remedy can be. It does its work kindly, silently, and surely. The Relief which it affords is both certain and perceptible.

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER.

Persons unacquainted with the structure and functions of the Kidneys can not estimate the importance of their healing action.

Regular and sufficient action of the Kidneys is as important, nay, even more so, than regularity of the bowels. The Kidneys remove from the Blood those effete matters which, if permitted to remain, would speedily destroy life. A total suspension of the urinary discharges will occasion death from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

When the Urine is voided in small quantities at the time, or when there is a disposition to Urinate more frequently than natural, or when the Urine is high colored or scalding with weakness in the small of the back, it should not be trifled with or delayed, but Koskoo should be taken at once to remedy the difficulty, before a lesion of the organ takes place. Most of the diseases of the Bladder originate from those of the Kidneys, the Urine being imperfectly secreted in the Kidneys, prove irritating to the Bladder and Urinary passages. When we recollect that medicine never reaches the Kidneys through the general circulation of the Blood, we see how necessary it is to keep the Fountain of Life Pure.

KOSKOO!

Meets with GREAT SUCCESS in the CURE of

DISEASES OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM,

Almost nine-tenths of our people suffer from nervous exhaustion, and are, therefore, liable to its concomitant evils of mental depression, confused ideas, softening of the brain, insanity, and complete breaking down of the general health. Thousands are suffering to-day with broken-down nervous systems, and, unfortunately, tobacco, alcohol, late hours, over-work (mental and physical), are causing diseases of the nervous system to increase at a fearful rate.

The symptoms to which diseases of the nervous system give rise, may be stated as follows:

A dull, heavy feeling in the head, sometimes more or less severe pain or headache; Periodical Headache, Dizziness, Noises or Ringing in the Head; Confusion of Ideas; Temporary Loss of Memory; Dejection of Spirits; Starting during Sleep; Bad Dreams; Hesitation in Answering Questions; Dullness of Hearing; Twitching of the Face and Arms, etc., which, if not promptly treated, lead to Paralysis, Delirium, Insanity, Impotency, Apoplexy, etc., etc.

ROSADALIS!

THE Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scrofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a very powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samue' G. McFadden, Murfreesboro', Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

To All Whom it May Concern.

YOUR attention is called to sections 377 and 383 of the City Code. They have been so amended that one notification from me is sufficient, and I now notify all parties, who comes under the scope of said sections, to remove all obstructions, Sweepings, Hair, Fuel, Slop, or Washings, within six hours, and will say that you are not allowed to put the boxes, used to place such accumulation in, upon the street or sidewalk, except on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday mornings, when a Scavenger Cart will pass around and empty them.

OLD CAROLINA BITTERS.

A DELIGHTFUL TONIC

We take great pleasure in offering the

Old Carolina Bitters

to the public. They are compounded with great care, and contain some of the best Tonics in the Pharmacopeia. As evidence of the superiority of our Bitters over all others, we have certificates from many of the leading physicians in our State, who have prescribed them in their practice.

THE OLD CAROLINA BITTERS

Will be found invaluable for

Want of Appetite,
General Debility,
Chills and Fever and Dyspepsia.

We do not offer our Bitters as a cure for all diseases, but as an Aromatic Tonic, they have no equal.

SWEET QUININE

IS A RECENT IMPROVEMENT.

Replaces the use of the Bitter Sulphate Quinine, with which all are familiar.

Dose for dose, it is

WARRANTED

Fully Equal in Every Way to Bitter Quinine,

And like it, is the one

Great, Positive, and Unfailing

CURE

FOR ALL DISEASES OF MALARIOUS ORIGIN.

Fever and Ague,
Intermittent Fever,
Chill Fever,
Remittent Fever,
Bilious Fever,
Dumb Ague.

And the long train of disorders following these when neglected.

SWEET QUININE

is made solely from PERUVIAN BARK (so is Bitter Quinine,) therefore is of Vegetable origin, and not a Mineral Poison, but on the contrary is proved to be one of the elements found in the blood of all healthy persons.

SWEET QUININE

acts as an antidote to, as well as a cure for malarial or miasmatic poison, the absorption of which by the lungs causes Intermittent Fevers, etc. The only advantage claimed for over the use of old Bitter Quinine is the entire absence of that intense, persistent bitterness, which in the latter is an insurmountable obstacle to its use with most persons, and always with children.

SWEET QUININE

is in two forms—in Powder, for the use of Physicians and Druggists, and Fluid, for use in the family and for the general public.

COAL!

OUR experience for the last four years teaches us that the demand for Coal in the winter time is greater, (and will continue to be) than the facility for transportation, and we think it to the interest of consumers to lay in their supply this summer, as it may be had at high prices. We will deliver on short notice the car load, SEWANEE COAL, at the following prices:
